cleared. The time money and compercial paper markets were quiet with no change in rates.

Trading in foreign exchange was quiet because of the All Saints holiday observed abroad. Sterling held steady around 4.45 1.2 and the continental rates were firm.

Hond prices were irregular at the opening of today's bond market, but they sagged later when buyers were unable to absorb the large amount of offerings emanating from large insiliutions. Weakness of foreign issues and heavy liquidation of Erie railroad lens were the features.

Buyers of domestic bonds scemed inclined to favor short term issues and well secured callable bonds pending a more definite indication of the utilimate market trend.
